

TRINITY CATHOLIC SCHOOL THURSDAY BULLETIN

November 4, 2021

Dear Parents/Guardians:

Our 42nd Annual Auction fundraiser is right around the corner! Since this is a virtual event, it is free to register. Items will go up for bid on November 12th. Bidding will continue through midnight on the 13th. At 6:00pm on November 13th, the paddle raise video will go live. Our students are featured in this video, so please tune in! I also encourage you to share the invitation with your friends and family members. Information needed to register: <https://tcsspkn.ejoinme.org/trinity42>

Classroom auction projects are back this year!!! Let the bidding wars begin! We have some amazing, one-of-a-kind projects such as cookie jars, photography, garden beds, charcuterie boards, and more. These items are only available during the virtual auction. You must be registered to have a chance at taking one home. Don't miss out!

Parent-teacher conferences are November 12th so school is closed. Sign-up is now open via Sycamore. Conferences will be held in person or virtually, depending on parent preference. Please email teachers to let them know your preference and any specific issues you would like to discuss. Please note that Educare is also CLOSED on November 12th for professional development.

As a reminder, both school and Educare are closed on November 11th to observe Veterans' Day. The hygiene drive to support homeless veterans continues through Thanksgiving so please continue to bring in soap, shampoo, combs, toothbrushes and paste, and any other hygiene items.

Thank you for your continued support of Trinity! We are grateful for our community!

Stacie Holcomb

PARENT TEACHER CONFERENCES

Friday, November 12

Don't forget to sign up for your conference!

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

LIBRARY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

We are so happy to have our Library back open again this year. Volunteers are needed! (A great way to get in your volunteer hours) Library hours are Tuesday, 10:15 - 1:30 and Wednesday, 12:30 - 3:30 p.m. Please contact Nancy Likarish at 509-220-7267 if you can help.

NOVEMBER EARLY RELEASE AND SCHOOL CLOSURE DAYS

11/11 - Veteran's Day. No school or educare

11/12 - Parent-teacher Conferences. No school. Educare closed for an inservice.

11/24 - 11:30 a.m. release for Thanksgiving. Educare open.

11/25 - Thanksgiving. School & Educare closed.

11/26 - Friday after Thanksgiving. School and Educare closed.

MORNING DROP OFF TIME

Just a reminder that students can not be dropped off before 8:20 a.m. unless they are registered for Educare.

PARENT-TEACHER CONFERENCES

Parent-teacher conferences will be held on Friday, November 12. There is no school on this day. Conferences are required.

How to sign up for your conference:

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

Conferences can be either in person or virtual. If you would like a virtual conference (by phone or computer), please send an email to your students teacher or email Terri in the office at tbauer@trinityspokane.com.

CHRISTMAS HELP

If you will be needing help this Christmas, please email Terri in the office. tbauer@trinityspokane.com
(Before November 10th please)

From School Counselor, Tony Schuh

Love & Logic

A few years ago, I watched a child giving his mother fits in a store. When Mom noticed that the boy's behavior was drawing attention, she lost what little control she had and screamed, "That does it! I've had it with you! Now I'm not buying you anything!" In a feeble attempt to emphasize her power, she added, "And I mean it!"

Sensing that his mom was now at the end of her rope, he looked right into her eyes and yelled, "I hate you and you're not going to tell me what to do."

As I watched, I was filled with sadness for both the child and his mother. I managed to get next to this mother in the checkout line. I handed her my card with a note on the back to send it to the Love and Logic Institute for a free copy of one of our audios. I received a wonderful letter a few months later telling me all about the success she was having with her son.

After listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy, Mom created a plan for dealing with Zachary and his acting out at the store. The very next day they went shopping. True to form, Zachary started begging for things. In her calm, rehearsed voice, Mom said, "Not a good idea, Zachary. I have to shop without listening to that."

Dear Parents,

He immediately yelled, "All the other kids get stuff when they go to the store!" Then he grabbed two toys off the shelf and threw them into her shopping cart. Mom whispered, "That was a really bad decision, Zachary. I'm going to have to do something about that, but not here in the store. Try not to worry about it now."

Mom had learned the following principle from listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy:

Warning kids of a consequence reduces the power of the consequence.

This idea helped her while she implemented the rest of her plan. She phoned a friend who agreed to serve as a rather boring, yet humane babysitter. Mom did not tell Zachary what was going to happen.

When the next shopping day arrived, Mom's friend came to the door at 10 a.m. Mom said, "Zachary, I'm going to finish my shopping now. It's going to be a great day. This is so sad. I don't have the energy to listen to begging and arguing. So that's why you'll be staying home with Jenny while I go shopping. You will need to decide how you are going to pay her for her time. I know you don't have any money, so you will need to bargain to see which toys she'll accept as payment."

Mom had a wonderful time shopping, making sure that she was eating an ice cream bar as she walked in the door. She asked, "Hi Zachary. How did it go?"

"She made me pay with my remote-control car, and it's new!" he whined.

A few days later, Zachary started throwing a fit about not getting a meal with a toy in a restaurant. Mom looked at him and sang, "Uh oh, Zachary. Do you think that might be a bad decision?" Zachary's eyes got very wide. He became unusually quiet and stopped complaining.

Mom ended her letter by saying, "Thanks for making my life a whole lot easier!"

For more tips on how to handle situations when kids drain your energy, listen to our MP3 audio, Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy.

Thanks for reading!

Jim Fay

TRINITY CATHOLIC SCHOOL THURSDAY BULLETIN

November 4, 2021

Dear Parents/Guardians:

Our 42nd Annual Auction fundraiser is right around the corner! Since this is a virtual event, it is free to register. Items will go up for bid on November 12th. Bidding will continue through midnight on the 13th. At 6:00pm on November 13th, the paddle raise video will go live. Our students are featured in this video, so please tune in! I also encourage you to share the invitation with your friends and family members. Information needed to register: <https://tcsspkn.ejoinme.org/trinity42>

Classroom auction projects are back this year!!! Let the bidding wars begin! We have some amazing, one-of-a-kind projects such as cookie jars, photography, garden beds, charcuterie boards, and more. These items are only available during the virtual auction. You must be registered to have a chance at taking one home. Don't miss out!

Parent-teacher conferences are November 12th so school is closed. Sign-up is now open via Sycamore. Conferences will be held in person or virtually, depending on parent preference. Please email teachers to let them know your preference and any specific issues you would like to discuss. Please note that Educare is also CLOSED on November 12th for professional development.

As a reminder, both school and Educare are closed on November 11th to observe Veterans' Day. The hygiene drive to support homeless veterans continues through Thanksgiving so please continue to bring in soap, shampoo, combs, toothbrushes and paste, and any other hygiene items.

Thank you for your continued support of Trinity! We are grateful for our community!

Stacie Holcomb

PARENT TEACHER CONFERENCES

Friday, November 12

Don't forget to sign up for your conference!

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

LIBRARY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

We are so happy to have our Library back open again this year. Volunteers are needed! (A great way to get in your volunteer hours) Library hours are Tuesday, 10:15 - 1:30 and Wednesday, 12:30 - 3:30 p.m. Please contact Nancy Likarish at 509-220-7267 if you can help.

NOVEMBER EARLY RELEASE AND SCHOOL CLOSURE DAYS

11/11 - Veteran's Day. No school or educare

11/12 - Parent-teacher Conferences. No school. Educare closed for an inservice.

11/24 - 11:30 a.m. release for Thanksgiving. Educare open.

11/25 - Thanksgiving. School & Educare closed.

11/26 - Friday after Thanksgiving. School and Educare closed.

MORNING DROP OFF TIME

Just a reminder that students can not be dropped off before 8:20 a.m. unless they are registered for Educare.

PARENT-TEACHER CONFERENCES

Parent-teacher conferences will be held on Friday, November 12. There is no school on this day. Conferences are required.

How to sign up for your conference:

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

Conferences can be either in person or virtual. If you would like a virtual conference (by phone or computer), please send an email to your students teacher or email Terri in the office at tbauer@trinityspokane.com.

CHRISTMAS HELP

If you will be needing help this Christmas, please email Terri in the office. tbauer@trinityspokane.com
(Before November 10th please)

From School Counselor, Tony Schuh

Love & Logic

A few years ago, I watched a child giving his mother fits in a store. When Mom noticed that the boy's behavior was drawing attention, she lost what little control she had and screamed, "That does it! I've had it with you! Now I'm not buying you anything!" In a feeble attempt to emphasize her power, she added, "And I mean it!"

Sensing that his mom was now at the end of her rope, he looked right into her eyes and yelled, "I hate you and you're not going to tell me what to do."

As I watched, I was filled with sadness for both the child and his mother. I managed to get next to this mother in the checkout line. I handed her my card with a note on the back to send it to the Love and Logic Institute for a free copy of one of our audios. I received a wonderful letter a few months later telling me all about the success she was having with her son.

After listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy, Mom created a plan for dealing with Zachary and his acting out at the store. The very next day they went shopping. True to form, Zachary started begging for things. In her calm, rehearsed voice, Mom said, "Not a good idea, Zachary. I have to shop without listening to that."

Dear Parents,

He immediately yelled, "All the other kids get stuff when they go to the store!" Then he grabbed two toys off the shelf and threw them into her shopping cart. Mom whispered, "That was a really bad decision, Zachary. I'm going to have to do something about that, but not here in the store. Try not to worry about it now."

Mom had learned the following principle from listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy:

Warning kids of a consequence reduces the power of the consequence.

This idea helped her while she implemented the rest of her plan. She phoned a friend who agreed to serve as a rather boring, yet humane babysitter. Mom did not tell Zachary what was going to happen.

When the next shopping day arrived, Mom's friend came to the door at 10 a.m. Mom said, "Zachary, I'm going to finish my shopping now. It's going to be a great day. This is so sad. I don't have the energy to listen to begging and arguing. So that's why you'll be staying home with Jenny while I go shopping. You will need to decide how you are going to pay her for her time. I know you don't have any money, so you will need to bargain to see which toys she'll accept as payment."

Mom had a wonderful time shopping, making sure that she was eating an ice cream bar as she walked in the door. She asked, "Hi Zachary. How did it go?"

"She made me pay with my remote-control car, and it's new!" he whined.

A few days later, Zachary started throwing a fit about not getting a meal with a toy in a restaurant. Mom looked at him and sang, "Uh oh, Zachary. Do you think that might be a bad decision?" Zachary's eyes got very wide. He became unusually quiet and stopped complaining.

Mom ended her letter by saying, "Thanks for making my life a whole lot easier!"

For more tips on how to handle situations when kids drain your energy, listen to our MP3 audio, Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy.

Thanks for reading!

Jim Fay

TRINITY CATHOLIC SCHOOL THURSDAY BULLETIN

November 4, 2021

Dear Parents/Guardians:

Our 42nd Annual Auction fundraiser is right around the corner! Since this is a virtual event, it is free to register. Items will go up for bid on November 12th. Bidding will continue through midnight on the 13th. At 6:00pm on November 13th, the paddle raise video will go live. Our students are featured in this video, so please tune in! I also encourage you to share the invitation with your friends and family members. Information needed to register: <https://tcsspkn.ejoinme.org/trinity42>

Classroom auction projects are back this year!!! Let the bidding wars begin! We have some amazing, one-of-a-kind projects such as cookie jars, photography, garden beds, charcuterie boards, and more. These items are only available during the virtual auction. You must be registered to have a chance at taking one home. Don't miss out!

Parent-teacher conferences are November 12th so school is closed. Sign-up is now open via Sycamore. Conferences will be held in person or virtually, depending on parent preference. Please email teachers to let them know your preference and any specific issues you would like to discuss. Please note that Educare is also CLOSED on November 12th for professional development.

As a reminder, both school and Educare are closed on November 11th to observe Veterans' Day. The hygiene drive to support homeless veterans continues through Thanksgiving so please continue to bring in soap, shampoo, combs, toothbrushes and paste, and any other hygiene items.

Thank you for your continued support of Trinity! We are grateful for our community!

Stacie Holcomb

PARENT TEACHER CONFERENCES

Friday, November 12

Don't forget to sign up for your conference!

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

LIBRARY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

We are so happy to have our Library back open again this year. Volunteers are needed! (A great way to get in your volunteer hours) Library hours are Tuesday, 10:15 - 1:30 and Wednesday, 12:30 - 3:30 p.m. Please contact Nancy Likarish at 509-220-7267 if you can help.

NOVEMBER EARLY RELEASE AND SCHOOL CLOSURE DAYS

11/11 - Veteran's Day. No school or educare

11/12 - Parent-teacher Conferences. No school. Educare closed for an inservice.

11/24 - 11:30 a.m. release for Thanksgiving. Educare open.

11/25 - Thanksgiving. School & Educare closed.

11/26 - Friday after Thanksgiving. School and Educare closed.

MORNING DROP OFF TIME

Just a reminder that students can not be dropped off before 8:20 a.m. unless they are registered for Educare.

PARENT-TEACHER CONFERENCES

Parent-teacher conferences will be held on Friday, November 12. There is no school on this day. Conferences are required.

How to sign up for your conference:

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

Conferences can be either in person or virtual. If you would like a virtual conference (by phone or computer), please send an email to your students teacher or email Terri in the office at tbauer@trinityspokane.com.

CHRISTMAS HELP

If you will be needing help this Christmas, please email Terri in the office. tbauer@trinityspokane.com
(Before November 10th please)

From School Counselor, Tony Schuh

Love & Logic

A few years ago, I watched a child giving his mother fits in a store. When Mom noticed that the boy's behavior was drawing attention, she lost what little control she had and screamed, "That does it! I've had it with you! Now I'm not buying you anything!" In a feeble attempt to emphasize her power, she added, "And I mean it!"

Sensing that his mom was now at the end of her rope, he looked right into her eyes and yelled, "I hate you and you're not going to tell me what to do."

As I watched, I was filled with sadness for both the child and his mother. I managed to get next to this mother in the checkout line. I handed her my card with a note on the back to send it to the Love and Logic Institute for a free copy of one of our audios. I received a wonderful letter a few months later telling me all about the success she was having with her son.

After listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy, Mom created a plan for dealing with Zachary and his acting out at the store. The very next day they went shopping. True to form, Zachary started begging for things. In her calm, rehearsed voice, Mom said, "Not a good idea, Zachary. I have to shop without listening to that."

Dear Parents,

He immediately yelled, "All the other kids get stuff when they go to the store!" Then he grabbed two toys off the shelf and threw them into her shopping cart. Mom whispered, "That was a really bad decision, Zachary. I'm going to have to do something about that, but not here in the store. Try not to worry about it now."

Mom had learned the following principle from listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy:

Warning kids of a consequence reduces the power of the consequence.

This idea helped her while she implemented the rest of her plan. She phoned a friend who agreed to serve as a rather boring, yet humane babysitter. Mom did not tell Zachary what was going to happen.

When the next shopping day arrived, Mom's friend came to the door at 10 a.m. Mom said, "Zachary, I'm going to finish my shopping now. It's going to be a great day. This is so sad. I don't have the energy to listen to begging and arguing. So that's why you'll be staying home with Jenny while I go shopping. You will need to decide how you are going to pay her for her time. I know you don't have any money, so you will need to bargain to see which toys she'll accept as payment."

Mom had a wonderful time shopping, making sure that she was eating an ice cream bar as she walked in the door. She asked, "Hi Zachary. How did it go?"

"She made me pay with my remote-control car, and it's new!" he whined.

A few days later, Zachary started throwing a fit about not getting a meal with a toy in a restaurant. Mom looked at him and sang, "Uh oh, Zachary. Do you think that might be a bad decision?" Zachary's eyes got very wide. He became unusually quiet and stopped complaining.

Mom ended her letter by saying, "Thanks for making my life a whole lot easier!"

For more tips on how to handle situations when kids drain your energy, listen to our MP3 audio, Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy.

Thanks for reading!

Jim Fay

TRINITY CATHOLIC SCHOOL THURSDAY BULLETIN

November 4, 2021

Dear Parents/Guardians:

Our 42nd Annual Auction fundraiser is right around the corner! Since this is a virtual event, it is free to register. Items will go up for bid on November 12th. Bidding will continue through midnight on the 13th. At 6:00pm on November 13th, the paddle raise video will go live. Our students are featured in this video, so please tune in! I also encourage you to share the invitation with your friends and family members. Information needed to register: <https://tcsspkn.ejoinme.org/trinity42>

Classroom auction projects are back this year!!! Let the bidding wars begin! We have some amazing, one-of-a-kind projects such as cookie jars, photography, garden beds, charcuterie boards, and more. These items are only available during the virtual auction. You must be registered to have a chance at taking one home. Don't miss out!

Parent-teacher conferences are November 12th so school is closed. Sign-up is now open via Sycamore. Conferences will be held in person or virtually, depending on parent preference. Please email teachers to let them know your preference and any specific issues you would like to discuss. Please note that Educare is also CLOSED on November 12th for professional development.

As a reminder, both school and Educare are closed on November 11th to observe Veterans' Day. The hygiene drive to support homeless veterans continues through Thanksgiving so please continue to bring in soap, shampoo, combs, toothbrushes and paste, and any other hygiene items.

Thank you for your continued support of Trinity! We are grateful for our community!

Stacie Holcomb

PARENT TEACHER CONFERENCES

Friday, November 12

Don't forget to sign up for your conference!

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

LIBRARY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

We are so happy to have our Library back open again this year. Volunteers are needed! (A great way to get in your volunteer hours) Library hours are Tuesday, 10:15 - 1:30 and Wednesday, 12:30 - 3:30 p.m. Please contact Nancy Likarish at 509-220-7267 if you can help.

NOVEMBER EARLY RELEASE AND SCHOOL CLOSURE DAYS

11/11 - Veteran's Day. No school or educare

11/12 - Parent-teacher Conferences. No school. Educare closed for an inservice.

11/24 - 11:30 a.m. release for Thanksgiving. Educare open.

11/25 - Thanksgiving. School & Educare closed.

11/26 - Friday after Thanksgiving. School and Educare closed.

MORNING DROP OFF TIME

Just a reminder that students can not be dropped off before 8:20 a.m. unless they are registered for Educare.

PARENT-TEACHER CONFERENCES

Parent-teacher conferences will be held on Friday, November 12. There is no school on this day. Conferences are required.

How to sign up for your conference:

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

Conferences can be either in person or virtual. If you would like a virtual conference (by phone or computer), please send an email to your students teacher or email Terri in the office at tbauer@trinityspokane.com.

CHRISTMAS HELP

If you will be needing help this Christmas, please email Terri in the office. tbauer@trinityspokane.com
(Before November 10th please)

From School Counselor, Tony Schuh

Love & Logic

A few years ago, I watched a child giving his mother fits in a store. When Mom noticed that the boy's behavior was drawing attention, she lost what little control she had and screamed, "That does it! I've had it with you! Now I'm not buying you anything!" In a feeble attempt to emphasize her power, she added, "And I mean it!"

Sensing that his mom was now at the end of her rope, he looked right into her eyes and yelled, "I hate you and you're not going to tell me what to do."

As I watched, I was filled with sadness for both the child and his mother. I managed to get next to this mother in the checkout line. I handed her my card with a note on the back to send it to the Love and Logic Institute for a free copy of one of our audios. I received a wonderful letter a few months later telling me all about the success she was having with her son.

After listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy, Mom created a plan for dealing with Zachary and his acting out at the store. The very next day they went shopping. True to form, Zachary started begging for things. In her calm, rehearsed voice, Mom said, "Not a good idea, Zachary. I have to shop without listening to that."

Dear Parents,

He immediately yelled, "All the other kids get stuff when they go to the store!" Then he grabbed two toys off the shelf and threw them into her shopping cart. Mom whispered, "That was a really bad decision, Zachary. I'm going to have to do something about that, but not here in the store. Try not to worry about it now."

Mom had learned the following principle from listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy:

Warning kids of a consequence reduces the power of the consequence.

This idea helped her while she implemented the rest of her plan. She phoned a friend who agreed to serve as a rather boring, yet humane babysitter. Mom did not tell Zachary what was going to happen.

When the next shopping day arrived, Mom's friend came to the door at 10 a.m. Mom said, "Zachary, I'm going to finish my shopping now. It's going to be a great day. This is so sad. I don't have the energy to listen to begging and arguing. So that's why you'll be staying home with Jenny while I go shopping. You will need to decide how you are going to pay her for her time. I know you don't have any money, so you will need to bargain to see which toys she'll accept as payment."

Mom had a wonderful time shopping, making sure that she was eating an ice cream bar as she walked in the door. She asked, "Hi Zachary. How did it go?"

"She made me pay with my remote-control car, and it's new!" he whined.

A few days later, Zachary started throwing a fit about not getting a meal with a toy in a restaurant. Mom looked at him and sang, "Uh oh, Zachary. Do you think that might be a bad decision?" Zachary's eyes got very wide. He became unusually quiet and stopped complaining.

Mom ended her letter by saying, "Thanks for making my life a whole lot easier!"

For more tips on how to handle situations when kids drain your energy, listen to our MP3 audio, Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy.

Thanks for reading!

Jim Fay

TRINITY CATHOLIC SCHOOL THURSDAY BULLETIN

November 4, 2021

Dear Parents/Guardians:

Our 42nd Annual Auction fundraiser is right around the corner! Since this is a virtual event, it is free to register. Items will go up for bid on November 12th. Bidding will continue through midnight on the 13th. At 6:00pm on November 13th, the paddle raise video will go live. Our students are featured in this video, so please tune in! I also encourage you to share the invitation with your friends and family members. Information needed to register: <https://tcsspkn.ejoinme.org/trinity42>

Classroom auction projects are back this year!!! Let the bidding wars begin! We have some amazing, one-of-a-kind projects such as cookie jars, photography, garden beds, charcuterie boards, and more. These items are only available during the virtual auction. You must be registered to have a chance at taking one home. Don't miss out!

Parent-teacher conferences are November 12th so school is closed. Sign-up is now open via Sycamore. Conferences will be held in person or virtually, depending on parent preference. Please email teachers to let them know your preference and any specific issues you would like to discuss. Please note that Educare is also CLOSED on November 12th for professional development.

As a reminder, both school and Educare are closed on November 11th to observe Veterans' Day. The hygiene drive to support homeless veterans continues through Thanksgiving so please continue to bring in soap, shampoo, combs, toothbrushes and paste, and any other hygiene items.

Thank you for your continued support of Trinity! We are grateful for our community!

Stacie Holcomb

PARENT TEACHER CONFERENCES

Friday, November 12

Don't forget to sign up for your conference!

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

LIBRARY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

We are so happy to have our Library back open again this year. Volunteers are needed! (A great way to get in your volunteer hours) Library hours are Tuesday, 10:15 - 1:30 and Wednesday, 12:30 - 3:30 p.m. Please contact Nancy Likarish at 509-220-7267 if you can help.

NOVEMBER EARLY RELEASE AND SCHOOL CLOSURE DAYS

11/11 - Veteran's Day. No school or educare

11/12 - Parent-teacher Conferences. No school. Educare closed for an inservice.

11/24 - 11:30 a.m. release for Thanksgiving. Educare open.

11/25 - Thanksgiving. School & Educare closed.

11/26 - Friday after Thanksgiving. School and Educare closed.

MORNING DROP OFF TIME

Just a reminder that students can not be dropped off before 8:20 a.m. unless they are registered for Educare.

PARENT-TEACHER CONFERENCES

Parent-teacher conferences will be held on Friday, November 12. There is no school on this day. Conferences are required.

How to sign up for your conference:

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

Conferences can be either in person or virtual. If you would like a virtual conference (by phone or computer), please send an email to your students teacher or email Terri in the office at tbauer@trinityspokane.com.

CHRISTMAS HELP

If you will be needing help this Christmas, please email Terri in the office. tbauer@trinityspokane.com
(Before November 10th please)

From School Counselor, Tony Schuh

Love & Logic

A few years ago, I watched a child giving his mother fits in a store. When Mom noticed that the boy's behavior was drawing attention, she lost what little control she had and screamed, "That does it! I've had it with you! Now I'm not buying you anything!" In a feeble attempt to emphasize her power, she added, "And I mean it!"

Sensing that his mom was now at the end of her rope, he looked right into her eyes and yelled, "I hate you and you're not going to tell me what to do."

As I watched, I was filled with sadness for both the child and his mother. I managed to get next to this mother in the checkout line. I handed her my card with a note on the back to send it to the Love and Logic Institute for a free copy of one of our audios. I received a wonderful letter a few months later telling me all about the success she was having with her son.

After listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy, Mom created a plan for dealing with Zachary and his acting out at the store. The very next day they went shopping. True to form, Zachary started begging for things. In her calm, rehearsed voice, Mom said, "Not a good idea, Zachary. I have to shop without listening to that."

Dear Parents,

He immediately yelled, "All the other kids get stuff when they go to the store!" Then he grabbed two toys off the shelf and threw them into her shopping cart. Mom whispered, "That was a really bad decision, Zachary. I'm going to have to do something about that, but not here in the store. Try not to worry about it now."

Mom had learned the following principle from listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy:

Warning kids of a consequence reduces the power of the consequence.

This idea helped her while she implemented the rest of her plan. She phoned a friend who agreed to serve as a rather boring, yet humane babysitter. Mom did not tell Zachary what was going to happen.

When the next shopping day arrived, Mom's friend came to the door at 10 a.m. Mom said, "Zachary, I'm going to finish my shopping now. It's going to be a great day. This is so sad. I don't have the energy to listen to begging and arguing. So that's why you'll be staying home with Jenny while I go shopping. You will need to decide how you are going to pay her for her time. I know you don't have any money, so you will need to bargain to see which toys she'll accept as payment."

Mom had a wonderful time shopping, making sure that she was eating an ice cream bar as she walked in the door. She asked, "Hi Zachary. How did it go?"

"She made me pay with my remote-control car, and it's new!" he whined.

A few days later, Zachary started throwing a fit about not getting a meal with a toy in a restaurant. Mom looked at him and sang, "Uh oh, Zachary. Do you think that might be a bad decision?" Zachary's eyes got very wide. He became unusually quiet and stopped complaining.

Mom ended her letter by saying, "Thanks for making my life a whole lot easier!"

For more tips on how to handle situations when kids drain your energy, listen to our MP3 audio, Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy.

Thanks for reading!

Jim Fay

TRINITY CATHOLIC SCHOOL THURSDAY BULLETIN

November 4, 2021

Dear Parents/Guardians:

Our 42nd Annual Auction fundraiser is right around the corner! Since this is a virtual event, it is free to register. Items will go up for bid on November 12th. Bidding will continue through midnight on the 13th. At 6:00pm on November 13th, the paddle raise video will go live. Our students are featured in this video, so please tune in! I also encourage you to share the invitation with your friends and family members. Information needed to register: <https://tcsspkn.ejoinme.org/trinity42>

Classroom auction projects are back this year!!! Let the bidding wars begin! We have some amazing, one-of-a-kind projects such as cookie jars, photography, garden beds, charcuterie boards, and more. These items are only available during the virtual auction. You must be registered to have a chance at taking one home. Don't miss out!

Parent-teacher conferences are November 12th so school is closed. Sign-up is now open via Sycamore. Conferences will be held in person or virtually, depending on parent preference. Please email teachers to let them know your preference and any specific issues you would like to discuss. Please note that Educare is also CLOSED on November 12th for professional development.

As a reminder, both school and Educare are closed on November 11th to observe Veterans' Day. The hygiene drive to support homeless veterans continues through Thanksgiving so please continue to bring in soap, shampoo, combs, toothbrushes and paste, and any other hygiene items.

Thank you for your continued support of Trinity! We are grateful for our community!

Stacie Holcomb

PARENT TEACHER CONFERENCES

Friday, November 12

Don't forget to sign up for your conference!

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

LIBRARY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

We are so happy to have our Library back open again this year. Volunteers are needed! (A great way to get in your volunteer hours) Library hours are Tuesday, 10:15 - 1:30 and Wednesday, 12:30 - 3:30 p.m. Please contact Nancy Likarish at 509-220-7267 if you can help.

NOVEMBER EARLY RELEASE AND SCHOOL CLOSURE DAYS

11/11 - Veteran's Day. No school or educare

11/12 - Parent-teacher Conferences. No school. Educare closed for an inservice.

11/24 - 11:30 a.m. release for Thanksgiving. Educare open.

11/25 - Thanksgiving. School & Educare closed.

11/26 - Friday after Thanksgiving. School and Educare closed.

MORNING DROP OFF TIME

Just a reminder that students can not be dropped off before 8:20 a.m. unless they are registered for Educare.

PARENT-TEACHER CONFERENCES

Parent-teacher conferences will be held on Friday, November 12. There is no school on this day. Conferences are required.

How to sign up for your conference:

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

Conferences can be either in person or virtual. If you would like a virtual conference (by phone or computer), please send an email to your students teacher or email Terri in the office at tbauer@trinityspokane.com.

CHRISTMAS HELP

If you will be needing help this Christmas, please email Terri in the office. tbauer@trinityspokane.com
(Before November 10th please)

From School Counselor, Tony Schuh

Love & Logic

A few years ago, I watched a child giving his mother fits in a store. When Mom noticed that the boy's behavior was drawing attention, she lost what little control she had and screamed, "That does it! I've had it with you! Now I'm not buying you anything!" In a feeble attempt to emphasize her power, she added, "And I mean it!"

Sensing that his mom was now at the end of her rope, he looked right into her eyes and yelled, "I hate you and you're not going to tell me what to do."

As I watched, I was filled with sadness for both the child and his mother. I managed to get next to this mother in the checkout line. I handed her my card with a note on the back to send it to the Love and Logic Institute for a free copy of one of our audios. I received a wonderful letter a few months later telling me all about the success she was having with her son.

After listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy, Mom created a plan for dealing with Zachary and his acting out at the store. The very next day they went shopping. True to form, Zachary started begging for things. In her calm, rehearsed voice, Mom said, "Not a good idea, Zachary. I have to shop without listening to that."

Dear Parents,

He immediately yelled, "All the other kids get stuff when they go to the store!" Then he grabbed two toys off the shelf and threw them into her shopping cart. Mom whispered, "That was a really bad decision, Zachary. I'm going to have to do something about that, but not here in the store. Try not to worry about it now."

Mom had learned the following principle from listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy:

Warning kids of a consequence reduces the power of the consequence.

This idea helped her while she implemented the rest of her plan. She phoned a friend who agreed to serve as a rather boring, yet humane babysitter. Mom did not tell Zachary what was going to happen.

When the next shopping day arrived, Mom's friend came to the door at 10 a.m. Mom said, "Zachary, I'm going to finish my shopping now. It's going to be a great day. This is so sad. I don't have the energy to listen to begging and arguing. So that's why you'll be staying home with Jenny while I go shopping. You will need to decide how you are going to pay her for her time. I know you don't have any money, so you will need to bargain to see which toys she'll accept as payment."

Mom had a wonderful time shopping, making sure that she was eating an ice cream bar as she walked in the door. She asked, "Hi Zachary. How did it go?"

"She made me pay with my remote-control car, and it's new!" he whined.

A few days later, Zachary started throwing a fit about not getting a meal with a toy in a restaurant. Mom looked at him and sang, "Uh oh, Zachary. Do you think that might be a bad decision?" Zachary's eyes got very wide. He became unusually quiet and stopped complaining.

Mom ended her letter by saying, "Thanks for making my life a whole lot easier!"

For more tips on how to handle situations when kids drain your energy, listen to our MP3 audio, Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy.

Thanks for reading!

Jim Fay

TRINITY CATHOLIC SCHOOL THURSDAY BULLETIN

November 4, 2021

Dear Parents/Guardians:

Our 42nd Annual Auction fundraiser is right around the corner! Since this is a virtual event, it is free to register. Items will go up for bid on November 12th. Bidding will continue through midnight on the 13th. At 6:00pm on November 13th, the paddle raise video will go live. Our students are featured in this video, so please tune in! I also encourage you to share the invitation with your friends and family members. Information needed to register: <https://tcsspkn.ejoinme.org/trinity42>

Classroom auction projects are back this year!!! Let the bidding wars begin! We have some amazing, one-of-a-kind projects such as cookie jars, photography, garden beds, charcuterie boards, and more. These items are only available during the virtual auction. You must be registered to have a chance at taking one home. Don't miss out!

Parent-teacher conferences are November 12th so school is closed. Sign-up is now open via Sycamore. Conferences will be held in person or virtually, depending on parent preference. Please email teachers to let them know your preference and any specific issues you would like to discuss. Please note that Educare is also CLOSED on November 12th for professional development.

As a reminder, both school and Educare are closed on November 11th to observe Veterans' Day. The hygiene drive to support homeless veterans continues through Thanksgiving so please continue to bring in soap, shampoo, combs, toothbrushes and paste, and any other hygiene items.

Thank you for your continued support of Trinity! We are grateful for our community!

Stacie Holcomb

PARENT TEACHER CONFERENCES

Friday, November 12

Don't forget to sign up for your conference!

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

LIBRARY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

We are so happy to have our Library back open again this year. Volunteers are needed! (A great way to get in your volunteer hours) Library hours are Tuesday, 10:15 - 1:30 and Wednesday, 12:30 - 3:30 p.m. Please contact Nancy Likarish at 509-220-7267 if you can help.

NOVEMBER EARLY RELEASE AND SCHOOL CLOSURE DAYS

11/11 - Veteran's Day. No school or educare

11/12 - Parent-teacher Conferences. No school. Educare closed for an inservice.

11/24 - 11:30 a.m. release for Thanksgiving. Educare open.

11/25 - Thanksgiving. School & Educare closed.

11/26 - Friday after Thanksgiving. School and Educare closed.

MORNING DROP OFF TIME

Just a reminder that students can not be dropped off before 8:20 a.m. unless they are registered for Educare.

PARENT-TEACHER CONFERENCES

Parent-teacher conferences will be held on Friday, November 12. There is no school on this day. Conferences are required.

How to sign up for your conference:

Log into your Sycamore account
Click MY SCHOOL
Click P/T CONFERENCES

Conferences can be either in person or virtual. If you would like a virtual conference (by phone or computer), please send an email to your students teacher or email Terri in the office at tbauer@trinityspokane.com.

CHRISTMAS HELP

If you will be needing help this Christmas, please email Terri in the office. tbauer@trinityspokane.com
(Before November 10th please)

From School Counselor, Tony Schuh

Love & Logic

A few years ago, I watched a child giving his mother fits in a store. When Mom noticed that the boy's behavior was drawing attention, she lost what little control she had and screamed, "That does it! I've had it with you! Now I'm not buying you anything!" In a feeble attempt to emphasize her power, she added, "And I mean it!"

Sensing that his mom was now at the end of her rope, he looked right into her eyes and yelled, "I hate you and you're not going to tell me what to do."

As I watched, I was filled with sadness for both the child and his mother. I managed to get next to this mother in the checkout line. I handed her my card with a note on the back to send it to the Love and Logic Institute for a free copy of one of our audios. I received a wonderful letter a few months later telling me all about the success she was having with her son.

After listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy, Mom created a plan for dealing with Zachary and his acting out at the store. The very next day they went shopping. True to form, Zachary started begging for things. In her calm, rehearsed voice, Mom said, "Not a good idea, Zachary. I have to shop without listening to that."

Dear Parents,

He immediately yelled, "All the other kids get stuff when they go to the store!" Then he grabbed two toys off the shelf and threw them into her shopping cart. Mom whispered, "That was a really bad decision, Zachary. I'm going to have to do something about that, but not here in the store. Try not to worry about it now."

Mom had learned the following principle from listening to Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy:

Warning kids of a consequence reduces the power of the consequence.

This idea helped her while she implemented the rest of her plan. She phoned a friend who agreed to serve as a rather boring, yet humane babysitter. Mom did not tell Zachary what was going to happen.

When the next shopping day arrived, Mom's friend came to the door at 10 a.m. Mom said, "Zachary, I'm going to finish my shopping now. It's going to be a great day. This is so sad. I don't have the energy to listen to begging and arguing. So that's why you'll be staying home with Jenny while I go shopping. You will need to decide how you are going to pay her for her time. I know you don't have any money, so you will need to bargain to see which toys she'll accept as payment."

Mom had a wonderful time shopping, making sure that she was eating an ice cream bar as she walked in the door. She asked, "Hi Zachary. How did it go?"

"She made me pay with my remote-control car, and it's new!" he whined.

A few days later, Zachary started throwing a fit about not getting a meal with a toy in a restaurant. Mom looked at him and sang, "Uh oh, Zachary. Do you think that might be a bad decision?" Zachary's eyes got very wide. He became unusually quiet and stopped complaining.

Mom ended her letter by saying, "Thanks for making my life a whole lot easier!"

For more tips on how to handle situations when kids drain your energy, listen to our MP3 audio, Love and Logic Magic When Kids Drain Your Energy.

Thanks for reading!

Jim Fay